

Professional Facilitator, Strategic Writing Skills

Your opportunity

We are looking for a technology-savvy, charismatic facilitator to lead our Reader-Centered Business Writing workshops for corporate professionals either live or in the online classroom. Candidates must have experience as a trainer or communications specialist to be considered for this independent contractor position. Excellent compensation with the possibility of international travel.

You should be an experienced facilitator and an expert writer

Please apply for this position only if you fulfill these requirements.

You are

- a high-energy communicator
- an excellent writer (preferably published).

You have

- three years of corporate training experience
- three years of other business experience
- a business- or English-related graduate degree (MBA or MA)
- a very flexible schedule and are willing to travel.

Multilingual ability is a plus.

Experience teaching online workshops is preferred.

How to respond

Please send a resume and cover letter detailing your relevant accomplishments to jobs@bettercom.com.

Refer to "Professional Facilitator" in your submission.